

University of Florida

CALM Plans Follow-up Friday

*This meeting is being recorded

4/22/2022

Announcement

- Otters in Lake Alice South!!!
- The osprey chicks are progressing.

Icebreaker Question

What is your favorite pizza topping?

Meeting Goals & Agenda

Today's Meeting Goals

- Share experiences and ideas from Site Visit #7

Meeting Agenda

- Core Values
- Serial Testimony
- Open Discussion & Feedback

Core Values

- Committing to full participation
- Sharing collective wisdom for inclusive solutions
- Accepting shared responsibility
- Embracing creativity and a “what if?” mindset
- Supporting open & equitable discussion
- Have Fun!

Quick Overview of Serial Testimony

- Each participant is given one minute to speak.
- While a participant is speaking, attendees actively listen but do not react (stay on mute, do not write in the chat).
- If a participant decides not to speak the full minute, the group will acknowledge their full minute with silence.
- There will be ample opportunity for dialogue following this exercise.

Let's take a few minutes to jot down our thoughts...

Guiding Questions

- Are there any obvious human interventions that impact the site negatively? Positively?
- Is the conservation area accessible to all types of users (ex. Differently abled persons)?
- How is this conservation area used and how could it be used in the future (nature walks, teaching, general exercise, mindfulness, etc.)?
- How do the surrounding sites and uses potentially impact the conservation area?
- Is this conservation area actively maintained? Should it be?
- Are the boundaries of the conservation area clearly distinguishable?
- Are there any new best management practices we should consider in this conservation area?
- We encourage you to pause frequently and actively consider what your different senses are experiencing (hear, see, smell, feel).
- Are there any additional observations/considerations we should be aware of for this conservation area (ex. Rare plant species)?

Discussion

Open Discussion & Feedback

Thank you!!!